

Urban Times

FROM:

FEBRUARY 2009

ARCHIVES

HOLIDAY HOOPLA

More photos from Holiday Hoopla / next 3 pages

Ice sculptor Jeff Bane works on one of his creations during Holiday Hoopla, Mass Ave's annual salute to the season. Bane, a chef from The Chef's Academy, created a number of ice sculptures which adorned the fronts of Mass Ave businesses. The evening was also a First Friday, drawing patrons to art galleries for special openings and receptions.

Bane continued to work through the evening, drawing many onlookers and producing such gems as the creation (at right) for Silver in the City/At Home in the City

MORE
PHOTOS

▲ “Brick Head 3” was dressed for the season in Davlan Park.

◀ Members of the Sousaphone Chorus roamed the Avenue, playing both outdoors and in, such as this stop at the Chatterbox Jazz Club.

MORE PHOTOS

▲ Brad Hoyt played the harp guitar at Mass Ave Wine Shoppe.

◀ Southsiders Mike and Susan Grant check out the art at Dean Johnson Gallery.

R Bistro was brimming with activity, as well, during Holiday Hoopla. ▼

